

KEYNOTE

Life Cycle Engineering: The roadmap to emission free mobility

By Dr. Stephan Krinke

Biography

Stephan Krinke studied chemistry at the University of Stuttgart and did his Ph.D. thesis in environmental science. He started his career at Volkswagen AG in 2000. Since 2010 he is head of the department Environmental Affairs Product responsible for environmental management systems for the product development, life cycle engineering, resource risk assessment and environmental product information. He is head of the working groups for LCA of the VDA and ACEA. He represents the German industry as head of the DIN working group for LCA. Stephan Krinke has lectureships at different universities for environmental product design.